Name of the Experts with Designation	Prof. J. George Fernandez, Loyola Internal Academic Collaboration
Objective of the Event	To widen the innovation methods of faculty members for the holistic development of the institution.
Description of the Event	IQAC and IIC jointly organized a workshop on Innovative Initiatives for Institutional Development for the faculty members of the college. Prof. J. George Fernandez, Loyola Internal Academic Collaboration, was invited as the resource person for the workshop. The workshop was furnished with the presence of Joint Secretary Dr. P. E. R. Premchand, Principal Dr. Initha Lebanon Ebency and Vice Principal Mrs. Japhia Solomon. Principal Dr. Initha Lebanon Ebency welcomed the gathering and introduced the resource person. She then invited Prof. J. George Fernandez to take over the session. At the very beginning of the workshop, the resource person insisted on the importance of bringing up innovation in every way possible. After a brief icebreaker session, he began to suggest possible projects which could be taken up as an initiation by the departments. For Physics and Chemistry departments, he advised that research and CSR projects could be initiated jointly with any organization. For Biochemistry and Microbiology, he suggested for MOU tie-ups with the reputed industries. As for English, he recommended signing up MOU with News Agencies which would also benefit the institution in advertising and to receive the opportunity of addressing more people. MOUs with small scale organizations would enhance the Commerce stream students in practicing their curriculum practically. He further suggested that arranging tie-up with Tamilnadu government for policy matters and financial plans of the government's projects. MOUs with IT companies by Computer Science department would lift upcareer opportunity of the students, he added. Other than the stream oriented projects, he called out some of the promising projects which could be done at less cost but would pave a way for longstanding future plans. Some of the projects he mentioned were, doing public polls and survey of any product or small scale organizations, building up college and society relationship through services and allowing students to undergo programme-based part time jobs and internships during their course duration. During the last segment of the workshop, each department was asked to discuss and present the innovatory projects which they could execute by their stream. The workshop wrapped up with the vote of thanks presented by Dr. Uma Sarulatha, Head, Department of Commerce.

Outcome of the Event

Faculty members were served with the essential information for developing the departments and institution. They got numerous exposures to techniques that would enhance students to achieve their professional prospects.
