Description of the Event	The session has begun with the speaker introduction given by Dr.Shyamala, IIC Member and Asst., Professor, Department of Microbiology. The second speaker, Dr. Priya E has started the session with the function of startup incubators. She has continued to specify the UN Sustainable Development Goals which help the young aspirants to identify the domains to be focused which are of high demand. She has proceeded to give an extensive report on the funding agencies such as Sitare, EYUVA fellowship, BIG, BIPP, LEAP, ACE, etc., and their fund scale to a diverse set of entrepreneurs. She has demonstrated a vast list of BioIncubators ranging across all sorts of firms. In the forthcoming session, she has enlightened the students with the objectives, infrastructure of incubation cell with high-end facilities and equipments of IITM. To educate the students in utilizing the aforementioned amenities, she has provided a detailed presentation on the application process, incubation model and services given to the approaching candidates. Three videos of startup innovations have been played to illuminate students to come up with constructive innovatory projects. She has also mentioned the way IITM BI provides multi-faceted launch platforms where candidates are educated, trained and given funds to lay a firm. Dr. Priya Elamvazhuthi has also provided the programmes which allow the faculty members alongside students in forming a startup. She has continued to mention the IITM's collaborations with industries such as ETA. As additional information, she even has introduced the team of IITMBI where she is part of it. Before she has concluded, she has given a virtual tour of IITM Research Park's external and internal infrastructure for the benefit of students. During the discussion part, Mrs. Prasanna, Asst., Professor, Department of Economics, has put forth major questions like, IITM Research Park's tie-up with nongovernmental organizations for research, and acceptance of common people's project proposals. The speaker has clarified all the queries with detailed components.

Outcome of the Event	Unlike other seminars, this particular lecture has enlightened both students and faculty members. Post the program, students have had foundation knowledge over laying a start-up, sectors to approach to get fund and they have gained a broad perspective on the demands of entrepreneurs in market.
